

A Few Videos for You

In this newsletter I thought it might be a good idea just to introduce a playlist for economics videos. These videos are aimed at an introductory college economics level. Granted, not all of these videos are directly related to the Leaving Cert economics course but it is my genuine hope that these videos will increase your understanding of how an economy actually works and the different effects that a change in one thing (like inflation) can have on another (like interest rates).

My main advice is to look at a few of these on the days that you find something in the notes that you may not understand in the hope that there is a video here that will help explain to you the underlying theory.

These videos are not intended to replace the notes as the notes are geared towards to the Irish Leaving Cert. However, if you understand the information presented in these videos there should be absolutely no confusion when reading the notes.

Happy Watching and a Merry Christmas to all!!!!

Microeconomics Playlist

https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL-uRhZ_p-BM4XnKSe3BJa23-XKJs_k4KY

Macroeconomics Playlist

https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL-uRhZ_p-BM52EbMG1NR1ZfG9tEvcxE4u